

Ullstein-Halle and Axel-Springer-Passage

Room for inspiration

Give your event more room and let yourself be inspired by the special atmosphere in the center of Berlin – in the Ullstein-Halle and Axel-Springer-Passage.

The Ullstein-Halle

Situated in the center of Berlin, just a few meters from Checkpoint Charlie, the Ullstein-Halle is the ideal venue for meetings, gala dinner or awards ceremonies. Upon entering the almost 1 000 sqm hall, two large glass panels will catch your eye. These can be completely darkened using a flexible lamellar system. The technical infrastructure for video, sound, lighting and IT signal pathways can be centrally controlled from the integrated control room. The ceiling is equipped with more than 25 climbers and various suspension points (each up to 1 t). Other features include the automatic air conditioning and the ground-level entrances, which even allow vehicles to be brought into the hall.

Axel-Springer-Passage

The Axel-Springer-Passage is directly connected to the Ullstein-Halle. It consists of four glass-covered courtyards and the Mittelbar as a meeting point. The courtyards can be used individually or jointly (total area 2 250 sqm) and are ideal for use as recreation or break areas for events in the Ullstein-Halle as well as for evening events or fairs.

The Mittelbar is located in the heart of the Passage. Two large sea water aquariums that appear to float weightlessly above the 40 m basalt counter, modern leather chairs and warm parquet flooring create the perfect setting for get-togethers in a relaxed atmosphere. Four projectors and a sound system can be used individually to provide background music.

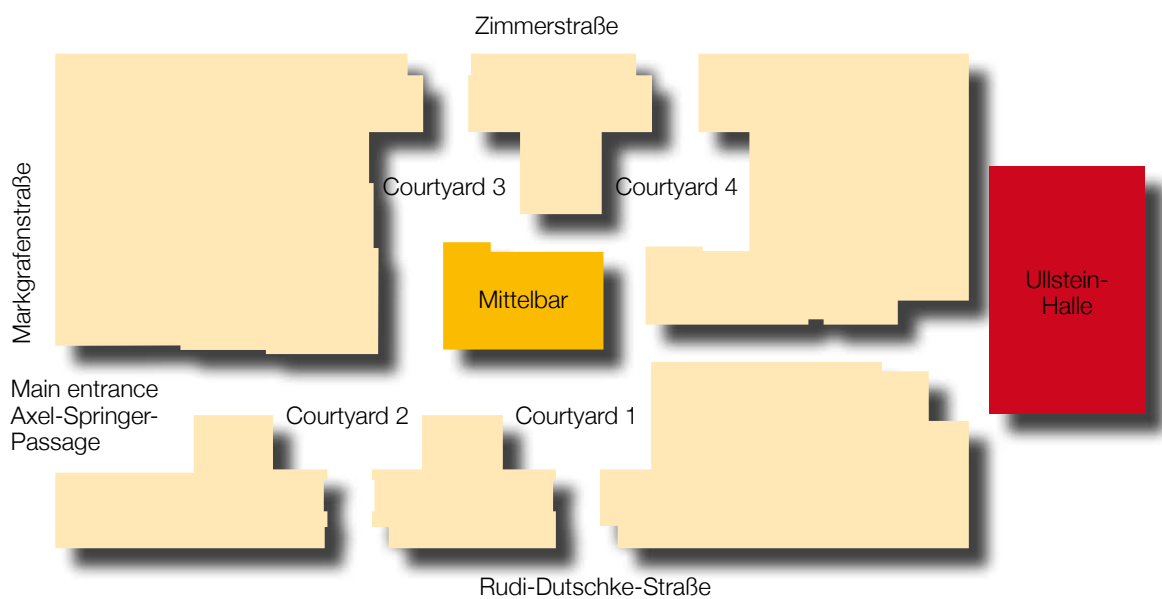

One-stop solution

From the initial idea to the final detail – we design, plan and look after your event and ensure its professional organization. Everything you require can be provided as a one-stop solution: In addition to catering, you can also book decoration and furnishings, technology and equipment, logistics and service. Naturally everything is adapted to the occasion and the purpose of your event.

Catering

Before we start planning the catering for your event, we will inquire: What is the occasion? Who are the guests? When will the event take place? We then prepare a customized offer for the catering service, which is tailored to the needs of your guests.

Benefit from our years of experience: We guarantee that everything will run smoothly, the service will be attentive and the logistics professional.

We assume responsibility daily!

As a caterer and a location we have a great responsibility: for sustainable economic management as well as compliance with social and ecological standards.

We assume this responsibility out of conviction. For this reason we are continuously assessing where we can improve products, processes and standards in the sense of environmental, economic and social sustainability. And we will be pleased to advise you on how you can organize your event and your catering sustainably.
